RISKS

- "The British Mountaineering Council recognises that climbing and mountaineering are activities with a danger of personal injury or death. Participants in these activities should be aware of and accept these risks and be responsible for their own actions and involvement."
- Although the wall is an artificial environment the risks involved are no less serious than when climbing on a crag or mountain.
- There is a risk that bolt-on holds can spin or break.
- The blue matting does not make climbing safe. Jumping or uncontrolled falls are likely to result in injuries to yourself or others.
- Climbing beyond your capabilities on any wall is likely to result in a fall. Any fall may result in an injury despite the safety systems in place to avoid it. You must make your own assessment of the risks whenever you climb.
- I have watched the BMC video 'How to climb at a climbing wall after Corona virus' https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Vnl2_00J2WA&feature=youtu.be

I have read, understood and accept the risks inherent in climbing and understand that failure to exercise due care could result in injury or death.
